The Top 3 Concerns

Can I pass the first time?

We have helped hundreds of electricians pass the exam their first time. If you dedicate your time preparing at home and then attend the live class, we trust you will have the confidence to pass.

I don't think I can manage taking off work to go to the class.

We want you to get back to work and as a licensed contractor! It's important to make this exam your priority which requires you to sacrifice a small amount of time at work. It's better to sacrifice a week at work and pass the exam than to take shortcuts and have to retake the test. The time and effort you put into preparing now will pay off on exam day.

I have so many questions and I am nervous about getting started.

That is what we're here for. If you have any questions before, during, or after your exam, feel free to call or email us. We want you to succeed, so we are here for you throughout the entire process. The live class provides you with the perfect opportunity to ask any technical questions.
